EVOLUTION

By: Manel Walker

A time will arrive when change must come

Just as the moon replaces our sun...

Just as an image can trigger an idea...

Just as the minutes evolve into years ...

The transformation. Evolution.

It is the method of massive manipulation

The process of positive progression

The goal is great growth.

The Transformation. Evolution.

We are the seeds that were planted

The flowers that did bloom

The child that was born

And the adult that did age

The Transformation. Evolution.

Never could one mature as well as we have

And maintain the ability to make this experience last

This Transformation.

Evolution.

"Whatever it Takes....."

Arts is taking it to the next level."

My Seniors of 2006:

What a privilege it has been to serve as your principal for this one year! One year may not seem a long time, but we have accomplished a lot, endured much and made the best of this time that we were granted together.

We began the year with a celebration and we end the year with an even greater celebration. We can celebrate because you have accomplished all of your goals and persevered through years of different administrators! You have probably had to make more shifts and changes than any other class that has graduated from Arts High School- and you survived! We can celebrate because you have excelled even with different teachers-almost yearly in some classes- and you have met the requirements for graduation!

I truly believe that God has a purpose for all of our lives, and it was meant to be that we would be together for this one year for a reason. I feel good about this journey that we undertook together this year, and I hope that you feel as confident as I do about your prospects and your futures.

As stated in our alma mater: "As the years go marching on, one by one we'll soon be gone, but our hearts will be with you, Arts High." Even though you are leaving, go with the knowledge that wherever you go and whatever you do, my heart and prayers will always be with you.

With love and admiration for your spirit tenacity,

Dr. Norma Fair-Brown

Nothing Can Hold Us Back

Life is a series of obstacles to be overcome, goals to be achieved, and dreams to be realized. The members of this year's class of 2006 have all chosen their own paths through life. We stand now with a fresh start before us; a chance to continue on the tracks we've started or to leave them behind and start completely anew. Both challenges and triumphs lie ahead, however, as we walk into the 21st century one thing is certain: We will find a way to come out on top. Together as a class we have built foundations strong enough to ensure that all of us will break through any and all barriers that life may put before us.

Teachers bounce the students again

On March 19th the students and the faculty had their annual basketball game. The faculty tantalized the students with great offense and defense. These ageless warriors were determined to teach the students a new lesson. The game was a back and fourth, challenge of skill and determination. Both teachers and students dazzled the students with deft passing and magnificent shooting and for the 11th year in a row the teachers served up a win and the students fell short of a win once again in 2006.

"To Be Young Gifted and Black"

An inspirational autobiography by Lorraine Hansberry

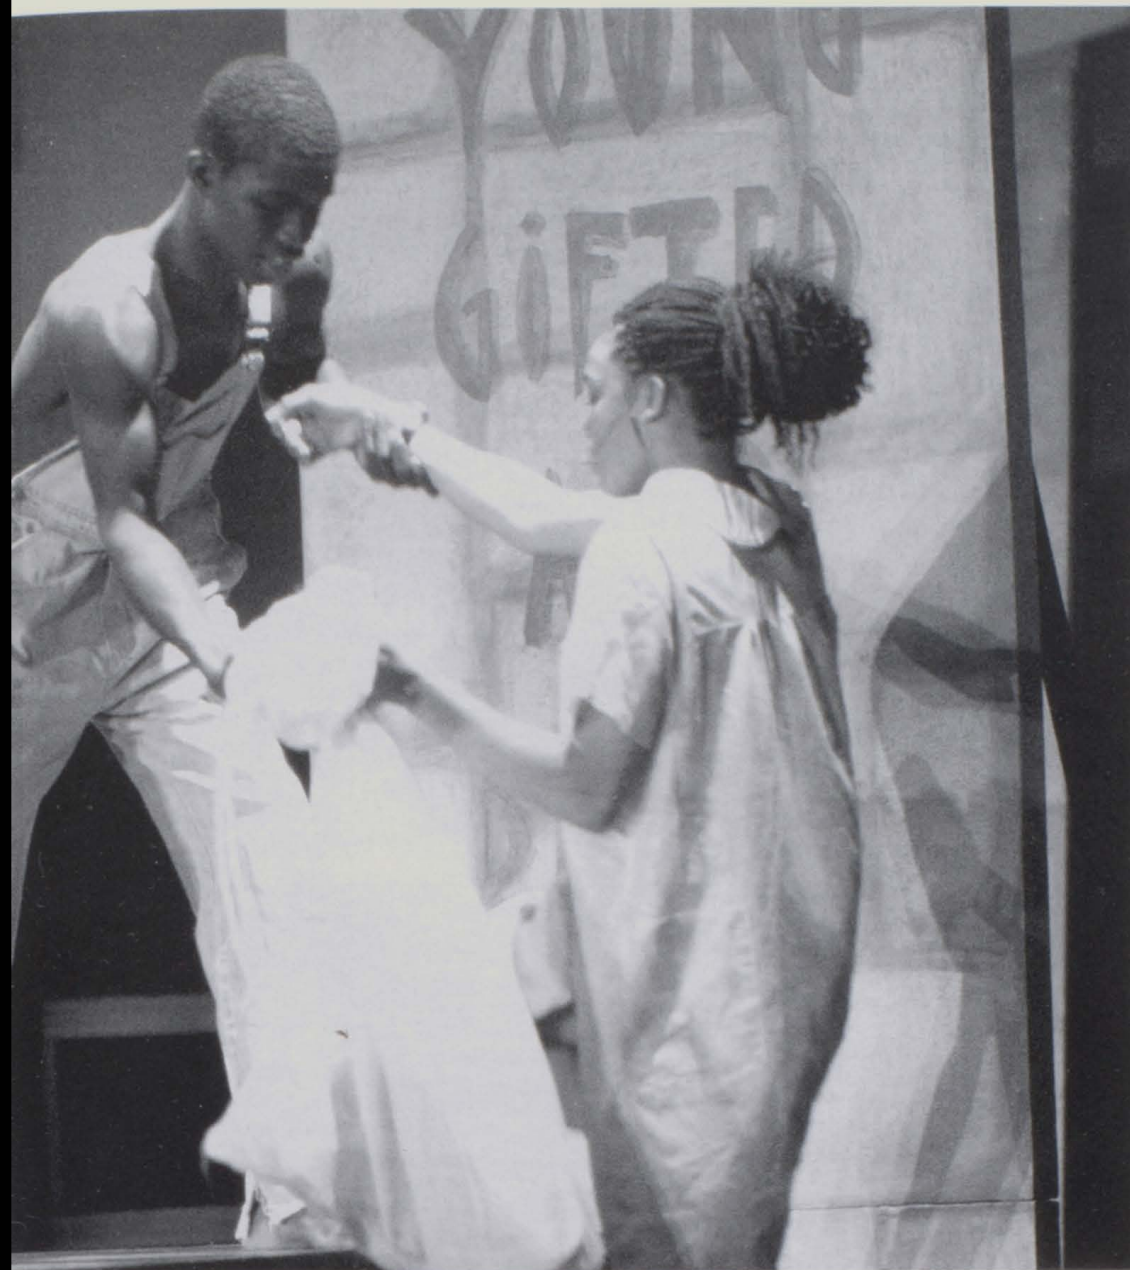

The drama majors performing Lorraine Hansberry's inspirational autobiography, "To Be Young Gifted and Black." To Be Young Gifted and Black is the story of the playwright and painter Lorraine Hansberry. The play was written by her husband Robert Nemiroff, depicts the life experiences of Ms. Hansberry. Auditions were held in September and students waited to know who made the cut. The students experienced the sweat, tears and cheers that are involved in producing a theatrical piece. Through the production and performance, the drama majors experienced a sense of community. The students make Hansberry's work come alive fulfilling Hansberry's "Wish to live."

Playwright Extraordinaire

Lorraine Hansberry was born in Chicago, 1930. She was born to parents who were intellectuals and activists. She studied art at the University of Wisconsin and in Mexico. After attending a school performance of a play by the Irish playwright Sean O'Casey, she decided to become a writer. In 1950, she dropped out of college and moved to New York. She took classes in writing at the New School for Social research. Lorraine Hansberry died of cancer on January 12, 1965. Hansberry's, "To Be Young Gifted, And Black", adapted from her writings, was produced Off-Broadway in 1969 and appeared in book form the next year.

The Day of Fright

A Nightmare Never To Forget

A day full of fright filled the air as students transformed themselves into monsters. Wearing creative costumes and masks, on a holiday that only comes once a year. Staff and students were amazed at the sights as zombies, vampires, and ghouls were taking over the halls. There were many who stood out from the crowd, showing how creative the members of the Arts High School family can be. For this, the day will remain but just a nightmare with the creatures of Arts High School lurking around in the hallways, seeking for victims to scare. Until another day comes again when the dead must rise to scare at Arts High School.

Coming towards the end of the day, everyone enjoyed having a fun time at the Halloween Bash after-school. There were many prizes given away to those with the most creative outfits at the dance. The Halloween Bash was an event to remember. The Student Council did an excellent job making the Halloween Bash a dark, fun, and frightening event.

Winter extravaganza

Once upon a time an upbeat, yet pleasant group of more than one hundred students gathered together to make one special night. On February 17, 2006, the atrium resembled a star-studded gala, only this one featured Arts High Special Family. Many lavishing gowns graced the floor on the figure of all the statuesque young ladies. The boys were truly gentlemen at this Winter Ball, as they featured style of clothing that ranged from trendy suits, to top hats and canes, to the latest club scene fashions. They were asked to "Dress to Impress" and that is exactly what they did with no disappointments. The atmosphere was set by a romantic color scheme of gold and blue. The dining hall was transformed into a place worthy of such an occasion with blue table covers and edible centerpieces.

The ideal evening wouldn't be the same without great food and great music. There was a spectrum of savory dishes on the menu. The D.J. did a great job of keeping the music happening and varied. He played everything from Club House and Hip Hop to Salsa and Merengue. This event was especially enjoyable for those students who attended.

Set in the French Antilles, Once On This Island boasts a score that is beautifully reflective of this story's Caribbean roots. Once On The Island originated at Playwrights Horizon in April, 1990. It opened at the Booth Theater on Broadway in October, 1990 and played for 469 performances. The show also received eight Tony Award Nominations, including: Best Musical, Best Score and Best Book.

Breathtaking

Once on this island was Ahrens' and Flaherty's first real taste of success. Based on the novel My Love, My Love by Rosa Guy, the show is a twist on the traditional "Little Mermaid" tale, and tells the story of Ti Moune, a poor peasant girl who falls in love with an upper class boy. Daniel, whose life she saves after a car crash. Central to the story are four gods that the peasants believe rule their lives. The gods Love (Erzulie), Earth (Asaka), Water (Agwe), and Death (Papa Ge) cause the lives of the young lovers to intersect, and send Ti Moune on the fateful journey that tests the strength of her love.

Something

A cornucopia of opportunities stared back at those who dared to watch, those who long to make a difference.

For some people school life doesn't end at 2:40. It exists for an hour or more after the bell. It maybe the Omega Jazz Esemble, Student Council, Academic Decathlon or Speech Team that strikes a chord in an individual, but one things for sure, Arts High School offers numerous venues for after school activities. This year's Robotics Club, under the supervision of Mr. Sylvestre and Ms. Crawford entered a National Competition in Atlanta. The team placed fiftieth in the National Competition.

Jaguars Boys Baseball

"Swing Batter"

The 2006 baseball season for Arts High was quite rough this year. The start of the new season showed us that we were going to be a much better defensive team. Apparently, our offense wasn't quite so effective. But we were a young team with three new coaches who taught us a lot more about baseball, then we knew. Even though, the intensity and enthusiasm was still there. Inside we all knew that it was just a matter of time before we mastered the sport. We did things this season we thought we couldn't do. We lost a lot of games, but it was a great experience.

Soccer Team Boots Their Way Through The Colonial Hills Conference

The varsity soccer team combined lots of leadership from the upperclassmen. With the talent and ability of younger players the Jaguars put together a competitive team. Led by seniors Christian Enwere, Jonathan Regalado, Luis Sanchez, Jose Luis Tacuri and Johana Fiallo the looked positive from the start.

The year was an outstanding come back for the Jaguars. The team gave a never ending effort throughout the season.

The Jaguars were a solid team that liked each other. Christian Enwere, said "I am going to miss my teammates especially during warmups".

The Jaguars pushed onward, no matter the peril. They persevered through seven strenuous miles, rugged terrain, harsh weather conditions and... water hazards? "One more mile!" Jose Rodriguez shouted, "Let's give it a push!" Splash! "Ugh" moaned Paul as he climbed out of a pond. "I don't think that was what Jose meant by a push."

"Even though our record didn't show it, we were an industrious group that thrived even in intrasquad competition," said captain Judline Tumson. "With only a limited number of spots per meet, each member pushed each other harder."

Lady Jaguars Softball

Almost There We Believe

The Lady Jaguar Softball Team has been improving. The varsity squad now has experienced players. This according to Coach Terrence Brogdon. This year's team is faster, stronger and wiser. The Lady Jaguars are spearheaded by seniors Brittany Acal and Luciany Pereira. Junior, Gabriela Santos provides great defense with her slick fielding. This nucleus makes Coach Brogdon very optimistic about the season.

Competiting For The Title

All-City selection, Lauren Morris leads the team

With four out of five starters returning to the Girls Varsity Basketball Team, the season looked bright. Everyone recognized the team's promise, including the newspapers, which named the Lady Jaguars as a team to look out for in the league. As the season progressed it became clear that the team would surely meet all expectations. Led by coach, Mr. Brad Howard, assistant coach, Ms. Ray-Quell Cotton and Sophomore Lauren Morris the Lady Jaguars made a legitimate run for the Colonial Hills Conference Title.

After compiling a record of 8-2 early on in the season, the Lady Jaguars' season began to tailspin due to injuries and poor play. They lost the next six games by the margin of four points. Even though the team did not win the conference, coaches, Howard and Cotton are quite optimistic for next year. The team's leading scorer was Lauren Morris.

Right: With suffocating defense, senior Najala Clarke drives around Whippany Park defender for two points.

Below: Avoiding a shot blocker, Chenelle Quallis starts to elevate with a defender in her face.

Above: Kieyana Sutton drives to the basket for two points in the first quarter.

Above: Using the dribble drive to perfection, sophomore Lauren Morris blows by the defender on her way to the rack.

Cheers

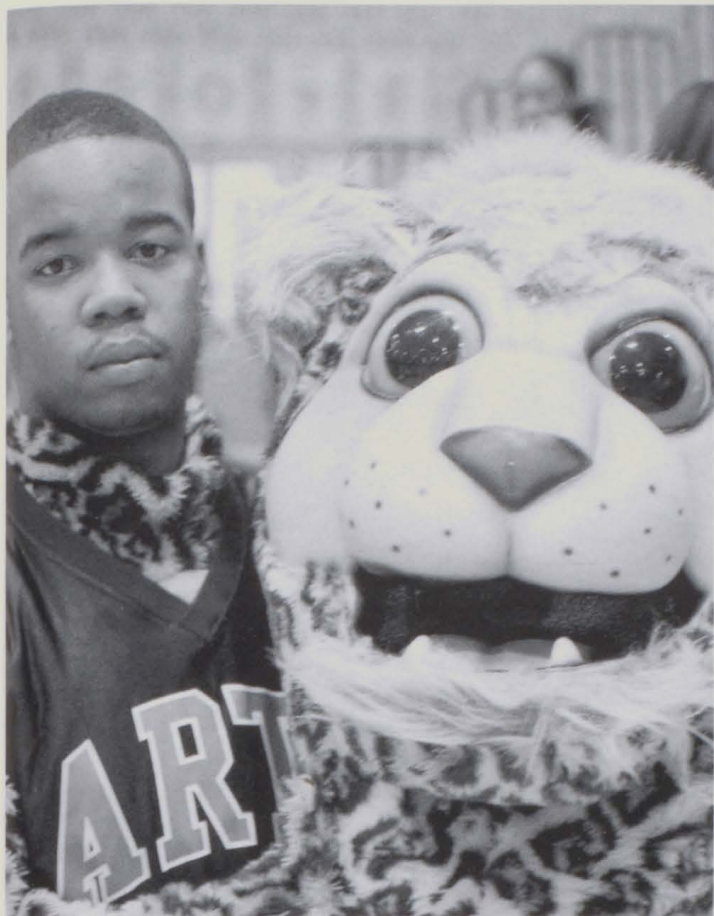

Our Active and attractive cheerleading helped us throughout the year to victory. Game after game, their spirit and talent was aroused. Their green and gray uniforms never seemed to stop jumping around as they cheered vigorously for the basketball players. The job of being a cheerleader is not an easy one. It's a very hard, energetic job. Our cheerleaders demonstrated poise and showmanship throughout the school year.

Right: The cheerleaders boost the morale at every game. They work extremely hard to prepare jumps and acrobatics for student body.

We finally made it to senior year! Time just flew by. I know I'm going to miss all the friends I made these past four years. I will never forget any of you. Activities: Gospel Chior, Robotics.

Manel Walker

I have to start by thanking my mom, grandma, aunt tina, and all my uncles and aunts. It might be a bit arrogant but I wanna thank myself as well because i'm the one who put in the most effort to make the grade and get through school. With that said I'll end things with my favorite quote: "there's always a reason why a genius takes a path knowing it's wrong"...but we ain't gotta explain, so take it how ya want it cuz we did it '06!

Victoria Walker

I have completed my journey here and have enjoyed every second of it. I want to thank everyone that has helped shape me into the woman I am. "Favor is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that fearth the Lord, she will be praised". Activities: Student Council, Gospel Chior, Peer Leadership, Advanced Chior.

Shelton Walton

First of all I would just like to thank god, my family and mother for bringing me in this world. To all my classmates live life to the fullest, and stay on point ya feel me. Activities: Senior committy.

Laticia Watson

It has been real. Spending my high school career with the best class ever has been an experience that i will remember forever. I will never forget all the ups and downs, friendships made, broken, and mended. Thank you, Mommy, Daddy, Grammy, Chrissy, Danny. I love ya'll too. "Never say goodbye, just say see you later". So, see all of you later. Activities: Speech team, Drama club, stage crew, volleyball.

Shaquan Welch

We are such beautiful people. I had fun these last four years and I plan to keep everyone in my heart. "The lord is my shephard I shall not want". Always remember that everything you need is in God and always put God first in everything you do. Activities: Gospel Chior, Prom Committee.

Dionte White

Thank you, Lord! I finally made it. I wanna thank my family and friends who have always supported me. To the class of 2'6, be successful in watever you wanna do in life. Love Ya Activities: Basketball, Track, Mock Trial, FEA, Symphonic Orchestra.

Solomon Williams

I would like to thank the class of 2006 for their respect in my beliefs, words, poetry, and silence. Also thanks to the teachers who helped me through tough times. Activities: Speech Team, Basket ball

Myriam Wilson

To the most successful class to come out of Arts: If you would have asked me freshman year if I would miss ya'll the answer would have been no. But its going to be so hard not to. I will miss you and I will always remember the memories we shared. Love always! Think I can get an encore?
Activities: Speech & Debate Team, Treasurer of Student Council, Secretary of Student Council, Manager of girls Basketball Team.

Jhane Wingfield

Thanks to the people who stood by me to help me succeed. To the class of '06 wish you all luck. Don't give up on life.

Jashlyn Wingfield

These four years, has been an experience that I will never forget. We made it this far, but we still got a journey ahead of us. Wish you all success.

Eric Worrells

To all my people from 2'6, I love ya'll and I'll never forget ya'll. And to my people who haven't graduated yet, enjoy your last years. To all my teachers that I've had, love ya. Activities: Basketball Team, Advance Chior, Cross Country.

Kaiiya Zahiratu

First and foremost I would like to thank God for making it all possible. I would like to shout out my two closest friends Shanette and Syieda. I would like to say thank you to my family for their love and support. And to my boyfriend Clinton thank you too. I love all of you. Activities: Dance Instructor, Track.

Jude Cheron

" Let me say the record, I am not a gangster and never have been. I'm not the thief who grabs your purse. I'm not the guy who jacks your car. I'm not down with people who steal and hurt others. I'm just a brother who fights back."
Activities: Track

Johnathan Regalado

These four years, has been an experience that I will never forget. To my friends thanks and hope we keep in touch da Js n l C iight peace

Nicole McNeill

Throughout the 4 years, I've learned so much. I would like to thank all the teachers that believed in me. And of course my mother, for pushing me to work harder. Thanks to my #1 Best Friend Sandy!! Love all

Evan Spaulding

Finally, I'm a grown up. High school was not easy, but I got through it. I love my real family, Arts High Family., and especially F.A.T.T. S.E.T.T. I wish great success for myself and the class of 2006. Activities: Robotics, Cross Country, Gospel Chior, Video Club, Research Club.

Latoya Watson

These past four years has been something that I will never forget. Shout out to my close friends I'll never forget you guys. Thanks to my family and teachers that help me through this journey. But this journey isn't over yet. Goodluck to you all. Activities: Mock Trial, FEA, and More Laticia Watson look this way and say "Cheese." By the way, nice pj's.

Shhh!!!!!!.... don't say a word. The girls are sleeping away on Pajama Day. Pajama Day is an annual tradition of each senior class. On this particular day, Seniors dress in their nightwear and their fuzziest slippers. Even though they are in their nightwear, the students still attend classes like on a regular day. "It's kind of weird walking into a senior class that's dressed in their pajamas while paying attention to class".

Top Right: Myriam Wilson and Yulissa Ortiz. AWWWW! Look at the cute little baby. She is wrapped up in a Spongebob blanket sucking on a pink and white pacifier in her mouth. Hug her tight and don't let go!

Left: Taliah McCall. I wonder what the Fluffy Wuffy Kitty is whispering in her ear? With that smile it must be something interesting. "I want to hear". Above: Beverly and Dana sure do look happy in this picture. Maybe it's because they are about to eat. "If your happy and you know it clap your hands."

Right: Carolina Andrade, Shamia Casiano, and Bettany Dasilva all come together and share a group hug with Care Bear.

Below: Joyce Menshaw. Bottom Right: Ashely Halstead. Hey Ashely, you might want to be a little easy on Winnie the Pooh. I think your choking him.

Above: Susan and An'sjaiyah are sleeping quietly on their desk. It must be the sleepwear that got them so dreary and tired. "Sleep tight, don't let the bed bugs bite."

Groovin' Back In Time

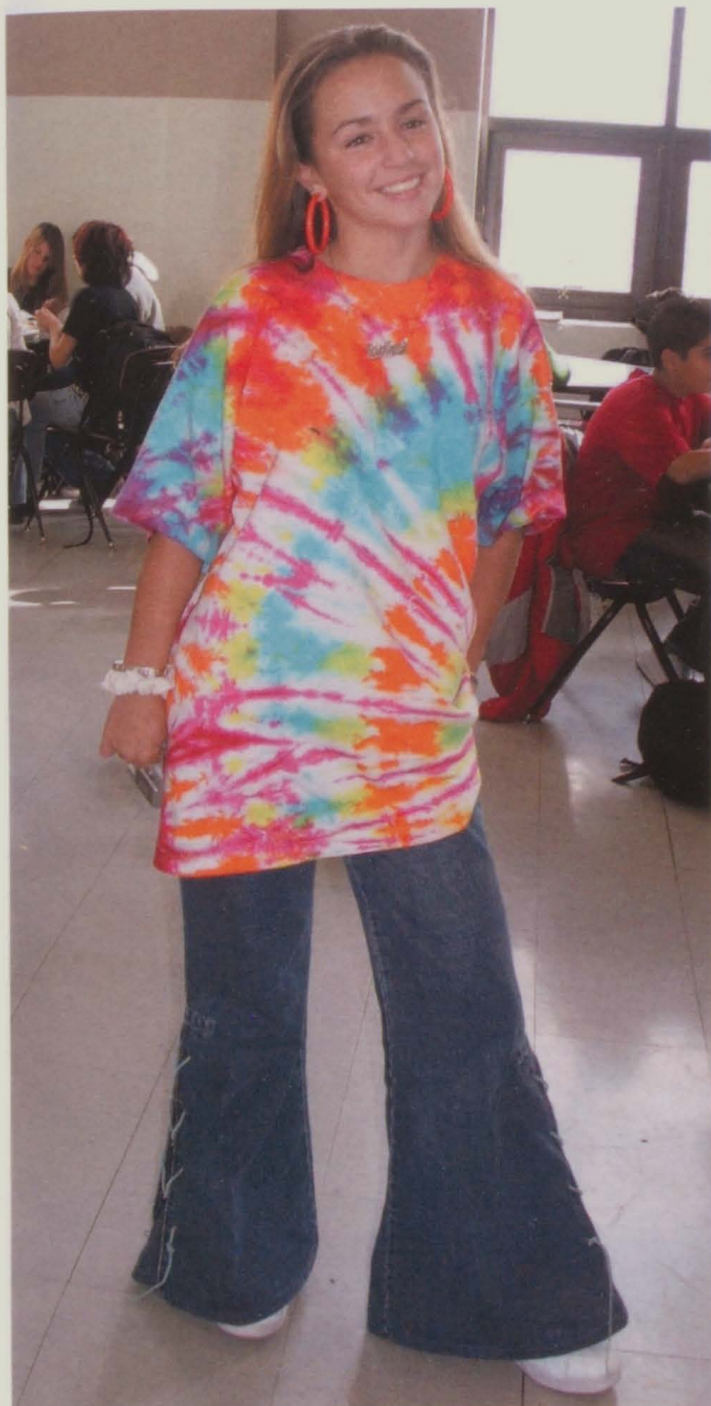

Reminiscing the Time Gone By

Flashback Day was a day to remember when the Class of 2006 brought back Soul and Flower Power to Arts High School. With a lot of creativity, Seniors brought back a style that was "Groovy" and "Slammin", back in the day.

A time when African Americans rebelled and fought for what's right. When there were those who believed in Peace not War. Which brought a time when people expressed themselves through the art of Hip-Hop and Break Dancing. It all transformed what the millennium is today for the Class of 2006 to appreciate.

Left: Sarina Nieves poses with an excellent combination of purples and blues with a little bit of Madonna, to show how creative the people of the 80's were.

Top Right: Four Flashy Foxy Ladies! Chanee, Kathy, Juanita, and Andrea takes it back, waaaaayyyyy back!!!!

Below: Justin Melvin. "I'm too sexy for my glasses, so I covered it with this afro!!!!"

Above: Latoya Watson. "I'm just thinking twice about why I let these people convince me to dress like this."

Above: Angelica Cassimiro. She's a dancing machine and she shows it in her outfit by representing the 70's style.

Above: This drama major, Myriam, is waiting... waiting for a job!!!! (That's what they called waiters in Hollywood!)

Back Then...??? Back When...???

SWITCH day

In the words of Will Smith "Switch"! which is exactly what the Senior class of 2006 have done. This is a traditional day for the seniors in which the girls show off their masculine side and for the boys to show off their feminine side. The girls transformed into rough necks and pimps

Above: Justin Melvin or should I say Justia Melvin flirts with the camera while leaning on the rail showing off her Summer outfit.

The guys transformed into pantyhose-wearing, fingernail painting, and bra wearing females. It gave the class the opportunity to dress as the opposite sex. However, some did look convincing, but at least it is not permanent.

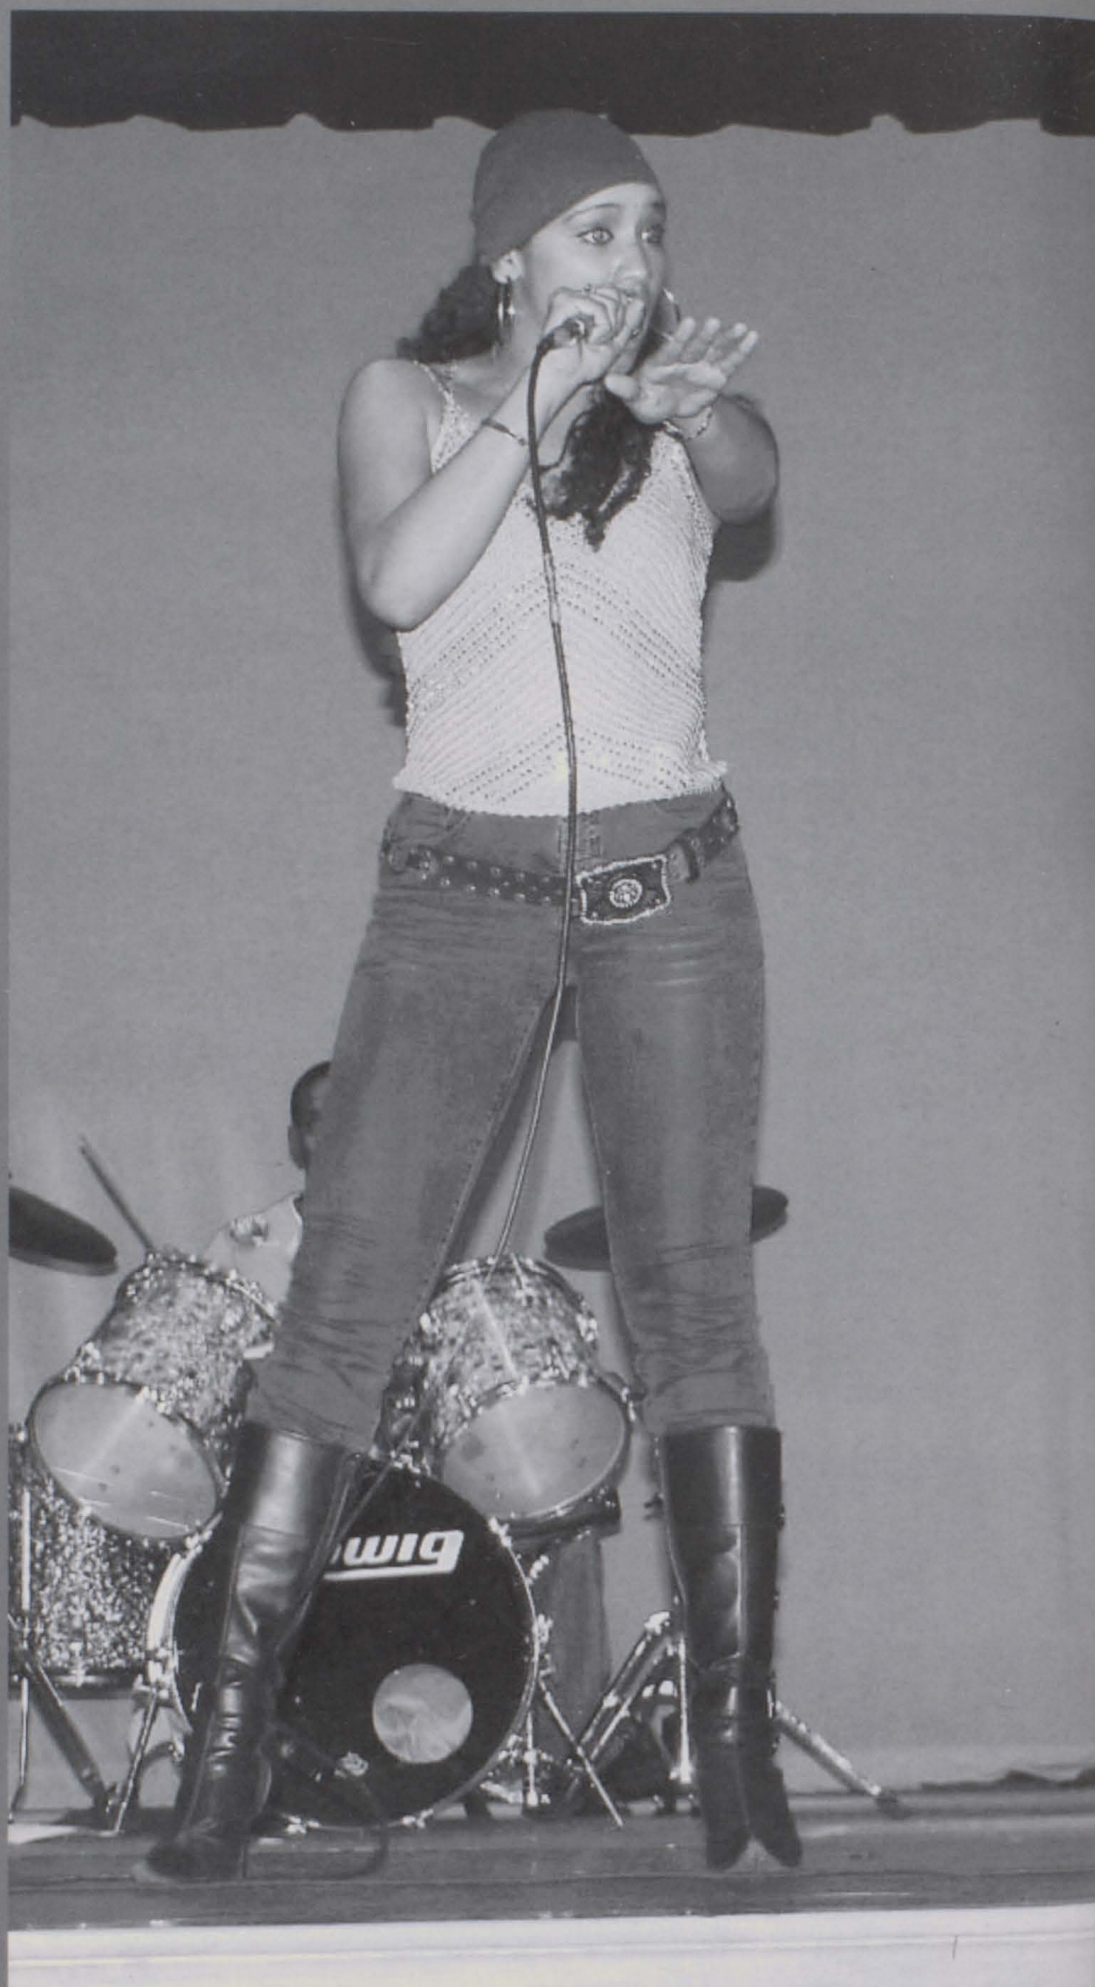

Left: Yulissa looks really fly in that suit. "I wonder what the occasion is? Well whatever it is I know he is going to get some numbers tonight. Do you Player!!!!"

Left: Jose Tacuri, Myriam Wilson. Look at the cute couple dressed up alike in their jersey wear. I think their going to a Lakers game after school. Have Fun!!!!

Right: Nicole Ortiz doing her thing portraying Alicia Keys, as she mesmerizes the crowd with her own beautiful singing voice.

Celebrities of the Future

Move over Hollywood! The new generation of superstars have arrived. With a chance to come outside of their major, they took the opportunity head on. Taking the chance to shine and just have fun. From Hip-Hop to rock. To Rap and Gospel. No one was hesitant to show what they had to offer. Eventhough some of the students didn't look like the people they were portraying they made it happen. Bringing energy to the stage, there were some students that did more than one act or joined in someone elses. Although they did get the crowd's approval as the energy was greatly received.

Left: Christian Enwere lit the stage as Akon. He really got into his role as he roused the audience.

Below: Robert Rodriguez playing a guitarist from Blink 182. Even though he is an Art Major, you would have thought that he was a Music Major.

Left: Katherine Fuentes, Shaheedah Thomas, & Precious Daniels... This sexy trio shaking what their mama gave them. With Shaheeda as Tierra Marie.

Double The Fun

From Tweedle Dee and Tweedle Dum to the Olsen Twins...It's Twin Mania! The twin epidemic took over the school for a day as seniors traded in their talents for two way mirrors. Around every corner you thought you were seeing double; convinced that you should get your eyes checked. It looked like auditions for the Double Mint commercial. Though most of the seniors looked nothing alike in neither facial features nor skin color, they found ways to make it work. Whether it being the same shirt, jeans, color, or hairstyle, they worked with what they had. The fact that a few of the twins weren't even of the same gender nor blood line made it all the more interesting. Proving that you don't have to have the same gene pool to be twins. Although, it would have been better if more of the seniors participated in the day's insanity, there were no hard feelings. As the saying goes, "If you can't join them, look at them and recap what you missed out on in our yearbook!" ^_^

Karma Disturbed

New Levels! New Attitudes!

On March 17, 2006, the senior class hosted the fashion show entitled "Karma Disturbed", took on a different approach, allowing anything to happen and exceeding all boundaries of a typical high school fashion show. Touching on abstract ideas, the show took the ideas of fashion to a whole different level. Some of the hottest designers in New Jersey, New York and even Arts High's own, came out to participate in the show. The show featured some of the hottest lines from student designers Jasmine Hamlette, Aigne Fields and Eric Jernigan. In addition to stunning fashion lines there was live entertainment.

Newark Meets Van Gogh

Beauty -Taolyna Guillaume

SOMEBODY! ANYBODY! WHAT IS BEAUTY?

"Beauty is in the eye of the beholder"

Beauty is all around you, your surrounding

What life is made up to be, both the negative and positive. I guess!

I mean ...Brick City is my beauty.

I wouldn't give it over in a million of years

Brick City what a beauty

But what beauty do I know of...

Am I talking of babies having babies

Or maybe the color red and blue that can't be worn in the streets

With ut being held up at gunpoint being asked, "What set you claim"?

IS THIS BEAUTY? IS THIS BEAUTY?

This is my beauty because these are the streets I'm being raised in.

It was once told to me that...

"We find things beautiful because we recognized them and countrawise we find things beautiful because thier novelty suprise us".

i find newark beautiful because it is something I recognized

But like a coin there is always a flip side

A side that awaited my presence way across the border. PROVENCE!

Life in Provence was but a word in disguise

I only knew what the media portrayed

Aix-Au-Provence a land of history and mystery

Where mountain, seigals and memo createds France true beauty

Fr the first time in history I can come outside and see all the stars

And not have to be locked up in the Newark Museum Planetarium

Where the star are just projections

What a beauty! What a beauty!

Never underestimate Beauty it is what you see

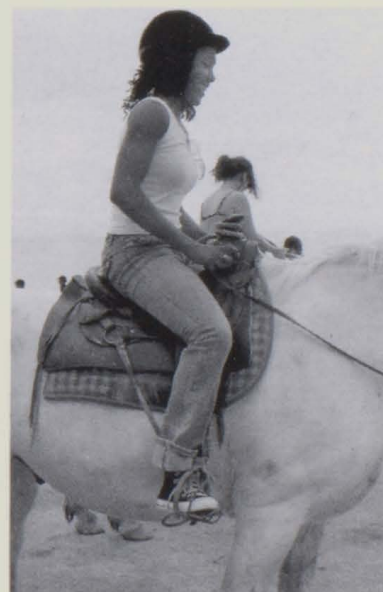

It can be an ant, a star, a car

Your street, your hood, your set

"Beauty is in the eye of the beholder"

Arts High Invades Philly!

After a two hour trip, Mr. Lopes AP U.S. History II and Ms. Wallace U.S. History I Honors Classes arrived in one of the most historic places in U.S. Philadelphia. Our nations first capital was now our classroom. The museums, the Green Mint, the historical streets, and the Liberty bell were all at our hands. We spent a delightful day learning about our U.S. History by going to shows and presentations that day.

During our time in High school we all searched for true friends. Someone we could connect with, relate to, trust, really get to know. A person to laugh and have fun with, and to cry and go through tough times with; someone to share our life with. Many of us found friends that would last a lifetime while others would just pass through our lives, but each friend we knew left a mark.

Our true friends struck with us through everything, from comforting us after having our heart broken, to fighting with our parents over our early curfew. They shared with us some of the greatest moments of our lives like getting our first car, turning sweet sixteen and finally graduating. Although it was more difficult to find friends like these, they stayed close to us because we were bound together by time and experiences. Even with the friends we only saw at school, we grew close with them through common experiences of the same classes and mutual friends. Even if we never kept in touch with them, they would always be remembered.

With all friends we learned about ourselves and they helped us discover who we were as people. We gave them a piece of ourselves and, in return, we received a piece of them.

Visual Arts Students

Below: The National Capital Building.

On April 12th, the senior visual art students took their annual road trip to Washington, D.C. Their itinerary included stops at the National Museum, African Museum of Art and the Smithsonian Institution. During the tour of the National Museum, the seniors got a chance to view great masters such as Da Vinci, Picasso and Monet, just to name a few. The students also toured many of the national monuments. The seniors were in awe of Washington D.C. and its many treasures. Mr. Fairfax and Mr. Fuller hope to continue their odyssey to Washington D.C. next year.

Remember When.....

Shaheedah hit Gifted in da head with the notebook.

Arts beat Central for the first time.

Parise told the truth!

Mrs Brazell walked around.

Everyone used to copy off of Diana F. work.

Everyone fell the health midterm except Juanita. (How that happened)

Naja'la scared the crap out of that blonde-haired freshman boy by jumping him.

Vicky bust her butt at winter ball '06.

Sarita got some people hooked on green tea because it "helps you lose weight".

Sharon got kicked out of church and Rosie got invited.

Natalia smashed Diana's cake in her face.

Evan's manhood got caught on the Batman ride at Six Flags.

Evans took his shirt off at celebrity day.

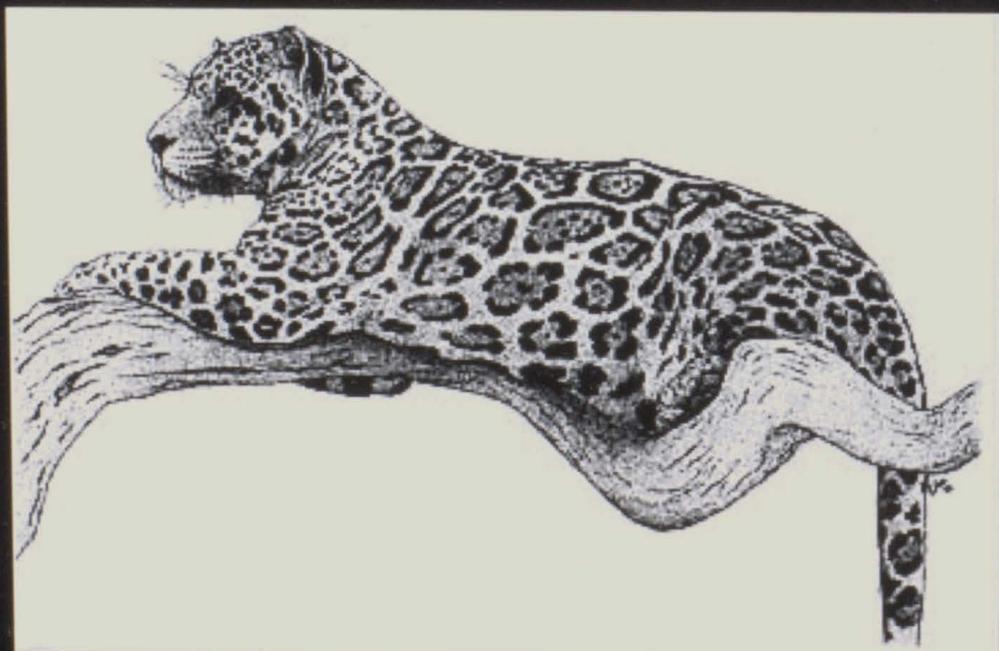

When Class of '06, loved each other and got along.

Mrs. Ingalls did her split. (Work it girl)

Ruben broke out of his shell _____ was pregnant all four years. (we all know who)

When our basketball team won that Championship game. (When was that again) Much love to our senior players.

When Bella and Chanee were like sisters.

When Addo and Judea used to be the best couple. (Ya'll know you love each other)

When Shelton, Addo, Jamale, and Kashif were almost kicked out freshman year because of the firecracker incident during six period. (The senior did it, but didn't confess. R.I.P Jamale

We will always remember....

Mr Fairfax- Will tell you like it is, always getting on people.

School Lunch! How can you repeat the same lunch three times in a week.

The Good and Bad times.

How went through like four Principals.

The BABY BOOM!
